FOREWORD

It is my pleasure to introduce the 1977/78 edition of the KWIC Index to the Government of Ontario.

The KWIC Index is designed to lead individuals, community groups, libraries and public servants to the right source of information and services in the Ontario Government. You will be able to use the Index more effectively if you first read the section "Tips On Using the KWIC Index".

The Cabinet Committee on Customer Service has recommended that the KWIC Index be readily accessible to Government employees so that they may be more helpful to the public.

We thank all the ministries and agencies for their cooperation in supplying information about their areas and the many users of the KWIC Index 1976/77 for their suggestions, many of which we implemented in this edition. We have capitalized the ministry and branch or agency name at the start of each entry to set that information apart from the rest of the text. There is a list of all key words and their page number in the text at the back of the Index.

I encourage you to contact the Citizens' Inquiry Branch with comments or suggestions that will increase the effectiveness of future editions.

TIPS ON USING THE KWIC INDEX

The KWIC (pronounced “quick”) Index gets its name from the Key Word In Context computer system on which it is based.

Key Words

To use the KWIC Index more effectively, follow these steps:

- 1) Identify your area of interest: e.g. You want government financial assistance to develop your farm.
- 2) Select key words which describe or bear upon your subject: e.g. farm, loans, grants, subsidies.
- 3) Look up these words in the Index. After each word are entries listed alphabetically, each describing a branch or agency which deals with some aspect of the key word. Decide which one is most likely to deal with your subject.
- 4) If you cannot find your key word, refer to Appendix A for a synonym in the list of key words used by the Index.

Each entry begins with the Ministry and branch, or agency name. These names are also key words so you can find out what specific Ministries do by looking them up alphabetically by name. To conserve space, Ministry names are abbreviated. See page X for a list of these abbreviations.

Acronyms

Acronyms such as OHIP, OECA are used throughout the Index. See Appendix B for a list of these acronyms and their full names.

Telephone Numbers

All telephone numbers given in the body of an entry are in the 416 area code unless otherwise stated.

Addresses

To write to any Ontario Government Branch or Agency in Toronto, address your letter using the Branch (Agency) Name, the Ministry, Queen’s Park, Toronto.

Regional, District and Field Offices

Most ministries have regional district or field offices throughout Ontario for easy access to their services. Check Appendix D for the Ministry office near you.

Ministerial Responsibility for Acts

Appendix C lists the Acts administered by each Ministry.

Northern Ontario

The Ministry of Northern Affairs coordinates government programs in Northern Ontario. When a Provincial Government service is not available locally, Northern residents are advised to contact their closest Northern Affairs office (see Appendix D).

Children's Services

Responsibility for programs relating to children and youth is being taken over by the new Children's Services Division of the Ministry of Community & Social Services. See Comm Soc Children's Services Division entry for a list of these programs. Consolidation was in process when this edition was prepared so the programs are described here under the originating Ministry. Telephone numbers are not expected to change.

Consumer Information

A clearing-house for Ontario consumer information is being established by the Ministry of Consumer & Commercial Relations to make consumer information more accessible to the public and to assist consumer educators. It is expected to open in November, 1977.

Community Information Centres

Many Ontario communities have community information centres which can give you information on how to contact all levels of government and local agencies. Check your telephone directory or municipal office for local information centres.

UNDERSTANDING THE GOVERNMENT STRUCTURE

The Basic Units

The basic units of the government structure are the Ministries such as Education, Health, Environment and Labour, each responsible to a Minister in the Cabinet.

Most of the services performed for citizens by these Ministries and some 250 Agencies, Boards and Commissions, are grouped into three organizations covering the broad policy fields of Justice, Resources Development and Social Development.

The work within a policy field is co-ordinated by a different kind of Cabinet Minister — the Provincial Secretary.

The Provincial Secretaries, supported by small secretariats in each field, are responsible for relating policies and priorities that cut across the traditional lines of departmental organization.

Provincial Secretaries guide rather than direct the approaches to the areas of government concern within their policy field. In Cabinet they sit as equals with colleagues who head Ministries having program responsibilities.

In turn, the policy fields report to the Policy and Priorities Board of Cabinet, chaired by the Premier, which brings an over-all perspective to proposals being developed for consideration by Cabinet itself and, eventually, the Legislature.

The Management Board of Cabinet reviews the implementation of new programs and the effectiveness of continuing operations of the Government.

JURY

416-965-7351

ATT GEN, COUNTY and DISTRICT COURTS, the intermediate level of trial courts with civil jurisdiction in Ontario, handle actions involving the amounts of between $401 and $7,500. Handle proceedings under these statutes: landlord and tenant applications for name changes, adoptions (child welfare), and mental incompetency. Persons rarely appear without legal counsel, and in many cases, either party may require trial by judge and jury. For inquiries in the Judicial District of York, contact County Court Clerk, 965-7351. Outside this Judicial District, contact appropriate county or district court.

ATT GEN, PROVINCIAL COURTS, CRIMINAL DIV, presided over by judges appointed by the Ontario government, deal with approximately 90% of all criminal cases under the Criminal Code of Canada, all offences under the Statutes of Ontario and of Canada and all offences arising from infraction of local by-laws of municipalities and their boards. A person accused of an indictable offence which is not in the absolute jurisdiction of a judge of the Provincial Court and not one customarily tried before the High Court of Justice may elect to be tried before a County or District Court Judge sitting either alone or with a jury. Contact local County or District Court.

ATT GEN, SUPREME COURT of ONTARIO, the highest civil court in the province, consists of three divisions: the High Court of Justice, the trial division; the Divisional Court of the High Court, with jurisdiction to hear certain appeals; and the Ontario Court of Appeal, which hears only appeals and is the highest court in the province. With certain exceptions, any party before the High Court may demand a trial by judge and jury. The new Family Law Division of the High Court (965-7418) handles trials of divorce actions and motions relating to disputes between husband and wife or parents and children, e.g. infant custody, maintenance and/or support. There is a local office of the Supreme Court in every county or district. The Divisional Court and Court of Appeal sit in Toronto.
